AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Today's Vaudeville and Photoplay Programme a Good One-Ford Sterling in His Greatest Two-Reel Comedy Today and Tomorrow.

Anyone in search of a good afternoon or evening's entertainment need go no further than the Auditorium, as the combination vaudeville and motion picture bill at this house is topnotch, both in quality and quantity. The three in quality and quantity. The three vandeville specialties for today are all equally good and are headed by the very classy singing and dancing specialty presented by the Misses Vera and Bertie. These clever young ladies have headined the programme last at the Union theatre, Providence the largest house in that city, and the management feels sure that their suc-cess there will be duplicated here. In their line of work they have no supe-

Tommy Hefron who is known as the Tommy Herron, who is known as the "uni-pedal crutchologist," will demon-onetrate that he is a wonder and that the mere fact of his being shy one of his lower limbs has no effect whatever on his activity. Tommy can dance more on one leg than most men can more on one leg than most men can on two.

Third on the bill comes the Elite Duo, Pierce & Alden, who present a single, talking and dancing act that is the very latest in every respect.

To lead the photoplay programme today the inimitable Ford Sterling will be seen in his latest comedy conception, entitled Hearts and Swords. This long and mery laugh is in two parts tion, entitled Hearts and Swords. This long and merry laugh is in two parts and the critics claim that this is the funniest film Sterling has ever made, which is a very broad statement when one considers this wenderful comedian's past performances. A unique film of the Frontier brand is entitled His Dress Rehearsal, a drama dealing with the life of a moving picture actor. The Rex company also offers one of its own style photo-dramas entitled A Man, a Girl and Another Man.

DAVIS THEATRE.

Fire and Sword, Big Spectacular Feeture Production in Five Reels.

For the first half of this week the special feature is Fire and Sword, an international photoplay of love and daring in five resis. It took 1,000 people to make this production, an army ple to make this production, an army daring in five reeis. It took 1,000 people to make this production, an army of U. S. marines, cavalry and native Arabs. Of all the big features shown here this summer, this is the most thrilling and soul stirring film ever exhibited. The stery in brief is: Helen Renseater, the daughter of a wealthy American, while traveling through Morocco, is kidning ped by natives at the vizier's command and held in the sultan's paince; how she is rescued by a young reporter on a new Tork daily, which coliminates in a civil war of the natives and the ourning of the city, is told in the exciting five reals which make up this production. In the course of the picture a whole city is burned up, and is the most intense fire spectacle ever witnessed. In addition there is the usual high class Mutual Movice, including the Several Theorem. is the usual high class Mutual Movies, including The Severed Throng, a two-reel Majestic drama; the famous Mu-tual Weekly, with all the latest news of interest, and Mabel's Married Life, of interest, and Mabel's Married Life, a Keystone comedy with a thousand laughs. Both Mabel Normand and the popular Charlie Chaplin are in this picture, which is positive proof of good rollicking fun. Edward I. Boyle will give an unusual entertainment this change; besides singing he will whistle. The Mocking Fird introducing the change: besides singing he will whistle. The Mocking Bird, introducing the double whietle, that is, whistling two complete tones at one time. Mr. Boyle is one of the very few whistlers who can accomplish this remarkable feat, and will play his own accompaniment at the same time. Mr. Boyle as an entertainer has very few equals and there is no end to his accomplishments. Bargain matinee today at 2.30.; bal-cony 5 cents, entire lower floor 10 cents. If you want to be cool, drop into the Davis. It's always cool inside this theatre.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

The Adventures of Kathlyn, Sensafienal Two-Reel Animal Picture.

After the escape of the leopards which were guarding the treasure room of the palace, the royal personages and their attendants fied, leaving an opportunity for Kathlyn to escape, and vaulting the wall, finds her father, Pundita, Bruce and Ramabal waiting with steads to take her to the coast. Pundita. Bruce and Ramabal waiting with steeds to take her to the coast. Her escape is discovered and pursued she takes to the jungle, where she is surrounded by tigers; she escapes from them over the cliff with the aid of a sheep herder, and upon reaching the coast learns that her sister Winnie has left California to visit her, and was now in the land of the treacherous Umballah. Disguising herself as a bear trainer, she hikes for Allaha, but is followed by hungry wolves, and arrives upon Coronation day at Allaha in time to witness Winnie in the crafty. Umballah's power. This is too much for Kathlyn and, throwing her disguise off, boldly reveals her own identity. The Trunk Mystery, an immense two-reel masterpiece, is for today; also A Knight of Trouble, and The Plot That Falied.

TO SAVE EYES

Is the Object of This Free Prescription -Try it if Your Eyes Give You Trouble.

Thousands of people suffer from eye troubles because they do not know what to do. They know some good home remedy for every other minor aliment, but none for their eye troubles. They neglect their eyes because the trouble is not sufficient to drive them to an eye specialist, who would, anyway, charge them a heavy fee. As a last resort they go to an optician or to the five and ten-cent store, and oftentimes get glasses that they do not need, or which, after being used two or three months, do their eyes more injury than good. Here is a simple prescription that every one should use:

5 grains Optona (1 tablet) 2 ounces water less three or four times a day to bathe the eyes. This prescription and the simple Optona system keeps the eyes clean, sharpens the vision and quickly overcomes the inflammation and irritation; weak, watery, overworked, tired eyes and other similar troubles are greatly benefitted and oftentimes cured by its use. Many reports show that wearers of glasses have discarded them after a few weeks use. It is good for the eyes and conuse. It is good for the eyes and contains no ingredient which would injure the most sensitive eyes of an infant or the aged. Lee & Osgood or any druggist can fill this prescription promptly. Try it and know for once what real eye comfort is.

Methodist Boy Scouts Hold Successful Picnic for Organ Fund-Taftville Team Shut Out,

The Boy Scouts of the M. E. Sun day school held a very successful and enjoyable picnic Saturday afternoon and evening on the lawn in the rear of the church. The lawn was dec-orated with Japanese lanterns and red white and blue electric lights. Home made candy, cake, ice cream, pop corn, sandwiches, coffee and baked beans were disposed of. Numerous games, a shooting gallery, fortune telling, diving for pennies, etc., provided diversion. A nice sum was realized and will be added to the new organ fund. The boys were so well pleased with their first plenic that they intend to hold several more before the fall.

HEBRON MINISTER.

Becoming Peeved in Revolutionary Time, Gave Connecticut Her Reputation as Blue Law State.

A new History of Connecticut, just written by George L. Clark and re-viewed at length in a New York Sun-day paper contains the following: "Soon after the Revolution this state was made still more conspicu-ous by the publishing of a history by an Episcopal minister, Samuel Peters, who was born in Hebron in 1735, be-came rector of the little church in his native town, where he lived until the Revolution. His aggressive loyalist convictions provoked the resentment of the Sons of Liberty and a party of them threatentd him with tar and feathers an dcompelled him to promise to refrain from meddling with near the sons of the ise to refrain from meddling with po-litical affairs.

"Repeated offenses led him to a second visit, and Peters, putting on his priestly robes, addressed the crowd, 'quibbling and equivocating,' as the story comes down to us through hiased minds, but the men pressed into the parsonage and found loaded guns and pistols. Then they seized Peters, tearing his clothes: putting him in a cart they hauled him by his own oxen to the Green, where the yset him on the public horse block and forced him to sign a declaration and confession that he repented of his past misdeeds and promised that he would give no further cause for complaint. He was then made to read the papers alou dto the crowd and give three cheers. ond visit, and Peters, putting on his give three cheers,

"Gov. Turnbull ordered the civil au-thorities at Hebron to 'preserve peace and good order and put the laws in and good order and put the laws in execution. Peters knew he would be safer and happier elsewhere, and he soon moved to Boston, and in November, 1774, sailed for England, sending back letters to friends in Hebron; but spies behind stone walls overheard his messengers talk about the Berlingetters and securing the missiver of letters and securing the missives of the angry minister they offered the unfortunate letter carriers a whipping or running the gauntlet; choosing the latter, they became the object of the zpite of the Sens and Daughters of Liberty of the neighborhood, and were glad to get through with their

However, by his letters and his his flowever, by his letters and his fis-tory, Peters succeeded in handing for some distance down the line of pos-terity an impression of old Connectiterity an impression of old Connecticut narrowness and bigotry.

"As specimens of the Blue Code of Connecticut," he says, it 'made it criminal in a mother to kiss her infant on the Sabbath Day;" Every male shall have his hair cut round according to a call, 'No one shall read Common Payer, keey Christmas or Saints days, make minced pies, dance, play eards, or play on any instrument of music, except the drum, trumpet and Jew's harp.

To Overcome Sunburn. Tan, Freckles, Wrinkles

If your skin is unduly reddened freckied or tanned, dab a liberal amount of mercolized wax on the face and allow it to remain over night. When you wash off the wax in the morning, fine naky, almost invisible particles of cultice come with it. Repeating this daily, the entire outer skin is absorbed, but so gradually there's not the slightest hurt or inconvenience. Even the slightest hurt or inconvenience, such the slightest hurt or inconvenience and youthful looking you'll marvel at the transformation. It's the only thing known to actually discard an agent faded, maddy or biolehy complexion, one ounce of mercolized wax procurable at any drug store, is sufficient in most causes.

If sun and winds make you squirt and frown, you're bound to cultivate wrinkies and crows fest. To overcome these quickir, bathe the face in a solution made by discolving an cunes of powdered associate in a saif pint with
